Finergreen appoints new Managing Partner for LATAM

Paris, France – February 21st, 2024: Finergreen, the M&A and financing advisory boutique specialized in the energy transition, announces it has appointed Christian Inchauste as the new Managing Partner for LATAM. He takes over from Carlos Marrón, who will assume new responsibilities within Finergreen.

Based in Mexico City, where Finergreen established its presence in 2019, Christian Inchauste will lead the firm's development in LATAM and further grow its Mergers & Acquisitions, Project Finance, Corporate Fundraising, and Offtake Advisory services.

Christian Inchauste brings with him over 30 years of experience in project and corporate finance in the energy sector in LATAM. He is joining from EY where he was recently heading their investment banking advisory business in LATAM. Before that, he held CEO positions for YPFB Transporte, the second largest Midstream company in South America, and the Bolivia-to-Brazil gas pipeline, GasBol. During his career, Christian successively worked in Paris, Brussels, Santiago de Chile, Mexico City, and Bolivia.

Commenting on this appointment, Alain Renaud, Group CEO of Finergreen, said: "Christian's valuable industry experience and deep insights into the local markets will be instrumental to sustaining our growth ambitions in the region. Finergreen has a strong commitment to LATAM, and with our two offices in Mexico and Sao Paulo we are well positioned to unlock the untapped potential of the energy transition there."

"I am glad to be taking on this new role and I am looking forward to building on Finergreen's position. It is an exciting time as the continent could launch more than 319 gigawatts of renewable energy projects by 2030. Beyond that, LATAM is set to assume a pivotal position in the global energy transition and Finergreen stands ready to contribute to this trend as a dedicated player," explained Christian Inchauste.

With more than 10 years of experience, Finergreen stands out as an independent advisory boutique providing Mergers and Acquisitions, Project Finance, Corporate Fundraising, and Offtake Advisory services, dedicated to the energy transition. Relying on a cross-cultural team of c.90 people, Finergreen has already opened 12 offices worldwide: Paris, London, Madrid, Budapest, Bucharest, Abidjan, Nairobi, Cape Town, Dubai, Singapore, Mexico, and Sao Paulo.
